

Protopipe

The Protopipe is the classic smoker's choice. It was designed in America in the early 60's and has been a popular choice all over the world ever since, due to it's compact size, smooth smoke and storage ability. It has a built in cleaning pick which also acts as a poker for the bowl.

The design of the bowl eliminates the need for messy gauzes, it has a solid brass gauze built in, with a removable bowl that collects the oils and tars. We seiously recommend this one for all you old hippies out there!
