

Femo pipe

This unique designer pipe has a thin metal inner tube while the outside is coated in wonderfully colourful Fimo clay.

The skinny shaft and generous bowl make this an elegant smoke but with manly undertones. The beautiful and often psychedelic patterns are interesting and attractive and look just fabulous with the smoke drifting up from the bowl. Fimo is a brand name for polymer clay made by renowned German company Eberhardt Faber (think pencils).

The name is derived from Fifi, who took over the company which then became known as Fifi's Modeling Compound and was later branded by Faber as FIMO, which has come to represent the highest quality polymer clay in the entirety of the earth.
