

DNA Genetics - Chocolope

The Chocolope, which was originally named D-Line, is a growers dream plant. She is easy to grow, produces heavy nugs, large yields and is unique. This sativa dominant plant likes to grow tall but can be trained to grow out. For this cross we choose our Original Chocolate Thai female to cross to the Cannalope male.

We then started back crossing this to achieve a shorter flower time and still retain some of the OG Choc. Thai qualities. What makes her so special is when you smoke her you taste that chocolate you've been missing from the 80's. This is the 'ONE'! Not much haze, but you don't need it. It has been entered twice in cannabis competitions and won both times!
