

Advanced Nutrients - Nirvana

FOR ORGANIC HIGH VALUE GARDENING, USE THIS PREMIUM 100% ORGANIC FORMULA TO MAXIMIZE THE SIZE AND QUALITY OF YOUR BUDS. In your relentless quest for larger buds that are worth more to you and your associates, you now have an all-organic formula called Nirvana.

When you look at what Nirvana has in it, and how these organics work for you, that's why Nirvana is the number one choice of growers seeking an organic way to maximize yield and quality. There's a superstar list of ingredients on board for you, including alfalfa extract that enhances growth and yield in your hydroponics plants because it contains triacontanol, a powerful molecule that increases your plants' absorption of CO₂.

Alfalfa is particularly important if you've invested money in CO₂ for your grow room; it gives you more rapid intake of CO₂, more vigorous growth, and maximum yields. Nirvana also gives you Ascophyllum nodosum algae (along with kelp extracts). These rich compounds contain ingredients that stimulate root function, cell replication, and flower. The benefits keep on coming when you use Nirvana, because it contains soy protein that has been pre-digested using enzymes instead of the acid process that most manufacturers use. Enzymatically-hydrolyzed soy protein ensures that flower-boosting amino acids cysteine and tryptophan are preserved in the biologically-active "L" form.

Most manufacturers use acid hydrolysis, which destroys L-amino acids. When you use Nirvana's enzymatically-hydrolyzed soy protein, your plants get L-amino acids that stimulate floral growth and potency. Another Nirvana benefit comes from two other plants: Chilean Soap Bark and Yucca. These amazing plants produce compounds called surfactants. A surfactant is a compound that reduces the "surface tension" of liquids so they and whatever they contain more easily enter your plants via roots and leaves. Yucca extract and Chilean Soap Bark extract are two all-natural surfactants that transfer nutrients into your plants.
