

Kannabia - Gnomo Auto

The influence of our Mataró Blue predominates in this cross with Rudelaris, creating a high-yield autoflowering plant with a lot of flavour. The plant usually grows to a height of 25-80 cm, although on rare occasions it may reach 1.40 metres high.

As the variety has now been stabilized over the course of several generations, you can harvest it without problems within 8 weeks from seed. Planting in April will result in a small crop in midsummer.

This variety has large flowers that tend to take on the electric-blue tone that is typical of Mataró Blue.

The flavour is similar to acidic fruits, with a strong high, as it has a higher psychoactivity than other autoflowering strains on the market.
