

Kannabia - BCN Diesel CBD

We have been working on our new variety BCN DIESEL, which comes from the family known the world over as NEW YORK DIESEL, crossed with a variety with high CBD levels. The result is out BCN Diesel CBD genetics, with a CBD/THC ratio of 1:2.

It's a plant that reaches a considerable size in a short time, because of its hybrid strength. You should remember that the plant will grow quite a few centimetres more once flowering begins. It has good resistance to pests and is easy to grow. Its lemon-green leaves may suggest all might not be well, but it's fine — that's just its colour.

Its buds tend to form a round, shape without tips and with a compact, strong structure. Its genetics mean that it produces a large amount of resin.

Highly flavourful, with the characteristic citrus notes of the original Diesel a and relaxing, long-lasting effect. Recommended for pain relief.
