

CBD Crew - CBD MediHaze

Aroma description:

Rich honey sweetness with a strong spicyness and a lemony hint.

Overall description:

CBD MediHaze is a sativa dominant high CBD enriched strain and one of the latest of CBD crew new releases for 2013. CBD MediHaze is Super Silver Haze crossed with old time classic of Nevil Haze then bred with the CBD parents for enrichment. We see several variations in THC/CBD ratios. So the applications of this strain are of new potential to the medical community. Despite CBD MediHaze ancestor, this is a plant that does not stretch too much when grown properly. Ready for harvest at 9 to 10 weeks of flowering at 12/12 hours. In Northern Hemisphere this plant should be completed outdoors in mid October. CBD MediHaze produces a good yielding plant with spicy/ menthol /piny aromas and if cured for 6 weeks will be a very smooth smoking plant. The yields expected are between 450-550 grams per square meter and a lot of weight comes in the latter part of flowering as distinct from indica dominants whose weight comes with the onset of flowering.
