

Devils Harvest - Khufu

Named after the first pyramid builder, Khufu is a cross between a San Fernando Kush male and our very own Kuchi female. With layers of calyx upon calyx, Khufu produces a huge yield that will satisfy even the most discriminating of Kush lovers.

The resulting cannabis buds will leave you relaxed and talkative. Khufu has a sweet taste that has often been described as similar to sage with a hint of citrus. Consisting of one part Cheese to two parts Kush, the Exodus Cheese still manages to hold it's own and contribute to a large chunk of the flavour. The smell has a hint of coffee which it has retained from the San Fernando Kush. Small and dense, this cannabis plant looks unlike most indicas – even slightly sativa by appearance.
